'WOMEN IN ECONOMICS' WITH CHERELLE MURPHY AND DR LEONORA RISSE

The number of women in the field of economics in Australia is disproportionately low. How can we address this issue and encourage more women to work in this sector? And what are the consequences if we don't? In this latest episode we're joined by Cherelle Murphy, Chief Economist at Austrade, and Dr Leonora Risse, Senior Lecturer in Economics at RMIT University and National Chair of the Women in Economics Network. They discuss creating a career in economics; improving gender equality in economics in the public sector; applying the 'gender lens' on economic analysis and policy design; and, the future of women in economics. NEWS AND RESOURCES

EXPLORING A NEW WAY TO LISTEN TO COMMUNITIES

People do not always feel adequately 'listened to' by the public sector or government. This article, from Apolitical, uses a case study to explore the steps used to deeply listen to people in communities, by capturing the words and conducting a sense-making session to identify key themes and messages. FUTURE LEADERS SUMMIT | MASTERCLASS: RESILIENCE, WELLBEING AND BURNOUT

26 NOVEMBER 2021

Before we get too far into another hectic year, we thought we'd bring you a refresher on personal resilience by revisiting last year's Future Leaders Summit, presented by IPAA ACT's Future Leaders Committee. In this masterclass on resilience, facilitator Lizzie Nichols, Senior Manager at Deloitte, is joined by Paula Allen, Global Leader, Research and Total Wellbeing at LifeWorks. They discuss the key insights and findings from a recent LifeWorks and Deloitte Canada report on wellbeing and resilience in senior leaders, during post pandemic workplace recovery.

Lizzie then leads a panel discussion with Andrew Colvin APM OAM Partner and Financial Advisory at Deloitte, Former National Coordinator with the National Bushfire Recovery Agency and also is the Former Commissioner of the Australian Federal Police and Kirsten Watson, Partner in charge of Human Capital at Deloitte and the Former Chief People Officer at Transport for

NSW. They speak candidly about their own crucible moments and personal journeys with resilience and burnout. Listen to the podcast below, read the transcript or catch the full Future Leaders Summit on the IPAA website.
